

Angel Fernández

A consummate musician, Angel Fernandez has worked closely with some of the biggest names in music for over two decades. Ray Barretto, Marc Anthony, David Byrne (Talking Heads), Jennifer Lopez and so many others have benefited from his considerable talents.

A multi-instrumentalist, he excels as a trumpeter and guitarist. He has a full grasp of rhythmic and percussive elements and is a highly respected music arranger.

His skills as a producer continue to break new ground for both new and established artists. Not one to be limited solely to Latin music, Angel has done extensive work in jazz, rock and classical music. He continues to blaze new musical trails, always striving to push the creative envelope.

Currently on a nationwide tour, he holds the post of Musical Director with superstars Jennifer Lopez and Marc Anthony simultaneously, directing both bands while performing on multiple instruments.

Ricky González

Ray Barretto, Gilberto Santa Rosa, Celia Cruz, Juan Luis Guerra, Willie Colón, Mongo Santamaria, the Fania All-Stars, Machito...these are just some of the names found on Ricky's considerable list of credits. He is, however, equally versed in the current youthful Pop-Salsa movement (Marc Anthony, Tito Nieves, Brenda K. Starr, etc.) as in the traditional.

His production of the Tito Nieves crossover classic "I Like It Like That" propelled that song to worldwide recognition. Outside of the Latin music genre, Ricky has penned arrangements for Frank Sinatra, George Benson, Jimmy Heath, The Big Apple Circus and contributed orchestrations to several major film soundtracks.

One of the most in-demand pianists in the New York scene, Ricky continues to electrify crowds with energetic playing and inventive solos. His studio work regularly calls upon his multi-instrumental and vocal talents. He is considered among the top music arrangers in his field..

Currently, he is on a nationwide tour with Jennifer Lopez (playing Pop, Dance and R&B) and Marc Anthony (Salsa and Latin-Pop).
